What is the RAG pipeline?

Optimal AI responses
in every conversation

Think of a RAG pipeline as a smart system that combines two key abilities:

Here's how it works

You ask the brand a question

API

Pulls real-time credit limit and available balance.

RAG

Fetches product documentation.

AI Assistant

Combines both into a contextual, customer-ready response.

The system searches for relevant information

Instead of relying solely on pre-trained knowledge, it looks up documents, databases, or external sources to find accurate and up-to-date information.

It generates a well-informed response

Using AI (such as a language model like GPT), it processes the retrieved data and crafts a response that sounds natural and coherent, while aligning with the brand's tone of voice.

What are benefits of RAG?

Accurate, real-time responses

RAG retrieves factual, real-time information for accurate AI responses.

Cost savings

RAG reduces extensive back and forth exchanges which saves on AI consumption spend.

Protects against

- Inaccuracies & hallucinations
- AI unwittingly sharing unwarranted information
